Top Ten Ways to Discover Fort Wayne

1. Looking for ways to get started? VisitFortWayne.com is the best resource for a complete community Calendar of Events, where you can find something special going on – anytime of year! We're also your resource for maps, guides and all other Fort Wayne information! It is THE place to get started discovering your community!

2. Get back to nature. Our award-winning trail system is outstanding, and offers recreation in the heart of the city. From foot, bike, kayak or cross-country ski, there are endless ways to explore. Learn more at VisitFortWayne.com/trails!

3. Shop Local. Dine Local. Don't just go to the old standby, try something new in the City of Restaurants. Find a new local Mexican restaurant; take the family to a delicious diner; or try food from a new ethnicity! Become a Fort Wayne connoisseur!

4. Enjoy an ethnic/cultural festival (or other special event!) you've never attended before. A full list is available at VisitFortWayne.com, but a few highlights include:

Cherry Blossom Festival (Japanese culture)	May 15
Germanfest	June 5-12
Greekfest	June 23-26
Indiana Black Expo	August 14-20
Viva Fort Wayne	August 27-28
Buffalo Tro - (Miami Indian Heritage)	September

5. Check out our libraries! From amazing (free!) programming - to movie and video game rentals - to books you can download for your e-reader, the library is so much more than their amazing collection of books. And, did you know that our library is home to the nation's largest genealogy collection? Now is the time to start that family research you've always planned - they even offer free training for beginners!

6. Fort Wayne has over a dozen great museums and attractions – and I bet there's one you haven't been to since your third-grade field trip! Choose one and take the family to learn about art, science, history, nature, or culture – and fun!

7. Don't forget to Be a Tourist in Your Own Hometown on Sunday, September 11th and get free admission to all of Fort Wayne's museums and attractions.

8. Cheer on Fort Wayne's Championship Summer – did you realize that all of these national tournaments were being played in Fort Wayne this year?
